

BODY OF MR. KIMMEL

Will Arrive on the Frisco This Morning

FROM CHANDLER, O. T.

No One Able to Find Out How He Was Killed.

The body of J. M. Kimmel, who was shot at Chandler, Oklahoma, at 8 o'clock Monday night, will arrive in Wichita this morning on the Frisco at 6:15. Every effort to find out how Mr. Kimmel met the accident was useless last night. The closing of the telegraph offices, account the Fourth a legal holiday, made it impossible to reach Chandler by wire. The telegram giving the news of Mr. Kimmel's death came to Mr. L. W. Clapp, by whom he was employed for three years prior to his removal to Chandler. He went to Chandler just a year ago today, July 5, 1898. Mr. Kimmel's friends told to the belief that he was shot by accident as he was a very peaceable, sober and quiet man, who never visited places or engaged in practices that lead to trouble. He had worked for Mr. Clapp for three years in the loan business and when a branch office was put in at Chandler Mr. Kimmel, who was a very active and successful business man, was put in charge.

H. A. Wattles of Clearwater, a relative of Mr. Kimmel's, came here last night and will take charge of the corpse as soon as it arrives. Mr. Wattles thinks the shot that killed Kimmel was "accidental," for while he says Mr. Kimmel was a man of positive and pronounced opinion, he was not quarrelsome. Mr. Kimmel belonged to the A. O. U. W. and F. A. A. of Kansas. He leaves a wife and two children.

live without capital. Labor is the great factor of growth and power, and without it capital is useless and impotent. Federalize your labor and producing interests and make it a simple question of dollars and cents—profit and loss. A federation of this kind will settle the question of trusts and be far more effective than a political federation. This way of settling the question will advance the interests of all. Keep it out of the hands of politicians and elevate labor and industrial interests.

"I believe these questions will eventually be settled and adjusted in this way, regardless of political parties, and will be done by organized trusts and combines of capital co-operating with labor and producing teagues and organizations and thus take the essential questions involved out of the hands of legislators and congressmen and adjudicate interests of this class by a commercial congress, thus raising these interests above the domain of politics, as politics is construed in a general way.

"The greater trouble in this country today is that more politics—party politics, I mean—permeates all and every industry, social and commercial, and even stalks into the churches and around their altars, thus making all great questions stepping stones to party success and men's ambition and selfish aggrandizement."

The speaker closed his address with a prayer on Kansas as the first battleground where the great contest for human freedom as against human slavery, was won, and on our own America, with its great advantages, its freedom, wealth and power.

AT CENTRAL RIVERSIDE.

The basket picnic and celebration of the Fourth by the Union Veteran Union, held in the Walnut grove in Central Riverside park, was a grand success. The weather was threatening in the forenoon, but soon after 3 o'clock the public began to assemble, and by noon about 500 veterans, their families and others had arrived and a rich repast from well filled baskets was soon spread out, and while the same was being disposed of a right jocular good time was had in a social way until the hour for the afternoon program. At 1:30 p. m. Col. A. J. Weaver introduced Captain F. H. Watkins, of the Volunteers of America, by way of opening exercises, who delivered a very pathetic and patriotic prayer, after which a national hymn by Captain Watkins and lady was sung. The audience joined in the chorus. Rev. W. L. Rose was introduced and gave an interesting talk for 20 or 30 minutes. By this time the audience had gathered to the number of about 1,200. Judge Balderston next entertained the audience for about thirty minutes in his usual happy strain.

Rev. Dr. Black, pastor of South Lawrence Church, gave a very able and patriotic address of about forty-five minutes. J. W. Tapp gave a very warm-hearted, patriotic talk, especially in honor of the old soldier. Next was an interesting recitation by Miss Gertrude Bull, and was so intensely interesting that the audience called her back, and she gave another, receiving the most hearty applause. Mrs. Major Lawrence recited "Reveille" with much pathos and interest to the audience, also another, "To the G. A. R.," which was heartily received. Rev. Yates spoke a few minutes with much pathos and feeling. His address was interspersed with many patriotic and national airs. The best of order and interest was manifested throughout the entire program.

AT THE JAIL.

At the county jail the unfortunate who are penned in from the beauties of nature and are not free even in a free country, were made happy for a short time by the kindly consideration of the sheriff and Mrs. Simmons. The prisoners were allowed the use of the corridors and exercising room during part of the day and they grew patriotic in their devotion to the flag, even though some of them had insulted its meaning with crime. At noon the prisoners were seated in the exercising room just south of the rotunda and Mrs. Simmons treated them with a goodly supply of ice cream and cake and gave each a beautiful bouquet. Even Johnnie Corastett, the emotionless and hardened and youthful criminal was not slighted. Nina Raymond, the lonely castaway in the upper cell, who is charged with murder, was brought out and given the freedom of sociability for a short time. After dinner the prisoners sang patriotic songs and some of them made good orations on the country's greatness and power. A committee on resolutions was appointed, consisting of the rotary gang, and the following resolutions were drawn and adopted and sent to the sheriff:

Wichita, Sedgewick County, July 4, 1899. Mr. C. W. Simmons, Sheriff: Dear Sir: We, the undersigned inmates of Sedgewick county jail, and in the department known as the "Rotary," all unite in sending yourself, Mrs. Simmons and Jailer Dodd, a vote of thanks for kindly remembering us on the 4th day of July, 1899. We cannot find words enough to express ourselves in showing our appreciation, but we can truthfully say, after partaking of the ice cream and cake, that if you had heard the after dinner orations spoken from the hearts of your charges, you would be satisfied that the state of Kansas possesses another hero besides General Funston. Hoping you will remain in the official capacity that the good people of Wichita and Sedgewick county have seen fit to place you in, is the prayer of the recipients. Kindly thanking you again, we remain,

Among the amusements of the afternoon were the following:

Boys' bicycle race arranged for by W. W. Pearce.

Cash Henderson's bicycle race for little girls.

Thos. Shaw's bicycle race for young men.

Bicycle race for young ladies, for a prize presented by George Innes & Co.

Boys' barefoot race, for a pair of shoes given by the Boston Store.

Cash Henderson's tub race, prize $5 trunk.

Boys' swimming race, for a suit of clothes, by the Boston Store.

The Fulton prize canoe race, for two excellent prizes presented by C. R. Fulton.

The W. W. Pearce bicycle race was entered by Frank Newland, Carl Wisdom, Meho McKee and Roy Williams. The race was over a rough track and was finished in the order named, the winner getting the prize, a gold watch.

The canoe race was won by Harry Stanley and his partner.

The boat race at South Riverside was won by Miss Hathaway and Mr. Frank Mark. The prize for this race was a lady's bathing suit valued at $6 and a gentleman's bathing suit valued at $5. Both prizes were given by Geo. Innes & Co.

DISCOVERED BY A WOMAN.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. She took it, and the result was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and with two bottles, she has been absolutely cured. Her name is Hannah Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hamrick, Co. of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottles free at G. Gehring's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

WATER SPOUT

SETS LUMBER YARD ON FIRE

At Pond Creek, Oklahoma, Monday Night.

T. R. Gentry, a lumber man of Pond Creek, Okla., T. R. Gentry, yesterday to celebrate some and look after business matters as well. He says that Pond Creek had a water spout Monday night which nearly overflowed the town. The water got up into Mr. Gentry's lumber yard and ran into the line bin. This started a fire at once, and for awhile it looked like a very destructive fire. The fire broke out in an order by rolling the barrels out from water out into the storm and getting it out of the yard. This is a new origin for a fire. It is probably the first time that a structure was ever set on fire by a water spout.

HE FOOLED THE SURGEONS.

All doctors told Renick Hamilton, of West Jefferson, O., after suffering from a tumor on Rectal Fistula, he would die unless a cory operation was performed; but he cured himself with five boxes of Bucklin's Arnica Salve, the surest cure on earth, and the best Salve in the world. 50 cents a box. Sold by G. Gehring, druggist.

Washington, July 2.—The navy department has received nothing concerning the reported trouble on board the Panther, and the officials are inclined to dismiss the public stories as without warrant.

Washington, July 2.—The secretary of the treasury today opened bids on the New York custom house property, of which there were three. He awarded the property to the National City Bank of New York on its bid of $2,350,000, this being the highest proposal.

Salt Lake, Utah, July 1.—The announcement was made this afternoon that Frank A. Wadleigh had tendered his resignation as general passenger agent of the Rio Grande Western railroad. He will be succeeded by George W. Heintz. Both men are among the best known passenger agents in the western country.

Washington, July 2.—The following naval officers have been voluntarily retired under the personnel act, the retirements dating from June 30 last: Commanders Henry S. Ross and John M. Hannum; Lieutenant Commanders William H. Briggs, John H. Moore, Hawley Orthenburg, Robert G. Peck, Herman F. Pickel, Gustavus C. Hanns and Henry H. Barrell.

New York, July 2.—The Naptha launch, with twelve men on board, which was found missing last night, was found today stranded near Rockaway Beach. All on board were safe, and by pond burner and a wetting by the surf, which broke over the stranded craft at intervals, they had suffered but little. The launch was towed off by an oyster steamer.

Ulysses, Neb., July 2.—During an electric storm last night Victor and Ida Dobson, a son of John Amos and two unknown men were struck by lightning and killed. The men were driving was also killed. The bodies were found until today, when a searching party which had been started out to look for them came upon the bodies.

WONT FIGHT IT OUT

Prediction by W. H. Asher of Pond Creek

THAT BARNES AND FLYNN

Will Compromise Their Political Fight.

W. H. Asher, deputy clerk of the district court at Pond Creek, Oklahoma, was in the city yesterday and registered at the Manhattan hotel. When seen by a representative of the Eagle and asked for some statements concerning Oklahoma's politics, said:

"We are in good shape financially, socially and every other way in Oklahoma. We've got lots of wheat. The crop of wheat this year, estimated from the threshings that have already been made, will be equally as good as the crop of last year and two years ago. That, you must know, makes us all right, for the worst heard of Oklahoma through its big wheat crops of the last two years."

"Is your county affected politically by the Barnes-Flynn fight of Oklahoma?"

"No. You couldn't find out who are Barnes men and who are Flynn men in our county if you were to go into Pond Creek and spend days to do it. We are Republicans and there the matter ends."

"Do you think Governor Barnes or Flynn will win out finally in the fight?"

"I do not think it will ever be fought out. I think a compromise will be arranged and the difficulty will be patched up. The whole Republican party of the territory is interested in having the trouble between the governor and Flynn fixed up, and I believe the two principals know that their followers do not want the fight any longer. That is my reason for saying that I believe it will be patched up. When that is done we will be in good shape all over the territory to whip the whole opposition of the fusion forces."

NINE CHILDREN DEAD

Alexander Jester Tells the Story of His Life.

Alexander Jester is now in jail at Mexico, Mo., where he was seen by a newspaper man Monday and interviewed as follows:

"Were you ever in Mexico before, Mr. Jester?"

"I thought I told you that I would not talk."

"On what date did you break jail in Mexico?"

"I am not the man who broke jail in Mexico; it was somebody else. My name is Hill."

"Have you ever killed anybody in Kansas or Missouri, as alleged?"

"I have not. I am no murderer."

"It is a wonder how it would be possible for a man to commit such a crime as the one laid at your door and then preach the gospel."

"He could not do it. I believe God would strike him dead," said the prisoner.

The old man before a preacher, he was asked if he thought a man could be forgiven for such a crime.

"Yes, all manner of sin will be pardoned except the sin against the Holy Ghost. The Lord is my shepherd, and I am trusting in him to bring me out of this trouble."

"How old are you?"

"I am 31 years old."

"Where were you born?"

"I was born December 19, in North Carolina."

"What was your father's name?"

"William Alexander Hill. He died two weeks before I was born an dmy mother married Jester. I grew up under the name of Alexander Jester. My stepfather died and left my mother a widow. She married him at Goldsborough, N. C. I enlisted in the war at Richmond, Ind., under the name of Alex Jester."

Jester says he thinks he is the victim of persecution and that there is money back of the whole thing.

"According to reports, there is a million dollars back of this case," said the reporter.

"They say John W. Gates of Chicago, a brother of the murdered man, is worth that amount."

"Everybody is against me, but the Lord has been good to me, and I will trust in him to bring me out of this trouble. It seems I have no friends."

"How many times have you been married?"

"Three times. The first time in Henry County, Ind., in 1891. I wedded Delia Bryant. I believe that was her name. The second time I married Julia Reynolds of Benton, Tex. Both of these wives died. The third wife I married at Tecumseh. Her maiden name was Ellen Smith. She was a widow by the name of Hall when I married her. She is divorced. She did not treat me right. I have three children living. Their names are William Hill, Alice Hill and Nannie Hill. I believe there are nine dead."

"Why did your sister write that letter telling on you?"

"It was spite work. She got mad at me. We were living in the same house, which we bought in partnership, but Alice, my daughter, got married, and we built a room for her and her husband, and we were all living under the same roof. Mrs. Street got mad and kept up a terrible stir and finally wrote the letter to the sheriff telling him that I had committed murder in Missouri."

Governor Barnes was moved to great wrath when he learned through the Eagle for the first time of the manner in which the extradition of Jester was accomplished, and he roundly scolded the officials who connived in denying Jester the hearing to which he was entitled under the law. The Eagle is the only newspaper that furnished a correct account of the abduction in all its details, refuting the generally accepted story that the prisoner was "surrendered" under color of law. It is known, too, that the midnight excursion, special train and all cost Millionaire Gates a pretty penny, considerably more than the $200 originally offered as a reward—in fact, it is alleged that the exact amount was $1,500, which amount is said to have been guaranteed by telephone late Saturday evening. Notwithstanding the alleged assurance from District Judge Burwell that Probate Judge Jennings' assumption of jurisdiction in the habeas corpus case was unwarranted and that he promised a speedy hearing and a proceeding in mandamus was brought—nevertheless all this is stated on very good authority that the Missouri sheriff telegraphed Mr. Gates that it would require $1,500 to secure possession of Jester before the habeas corpus hearing, and Mr. Gates immediately wired back to go ahead regardless of expense.

A man is usually paid four or five cents before he knows it.
